Training Provider Introduction

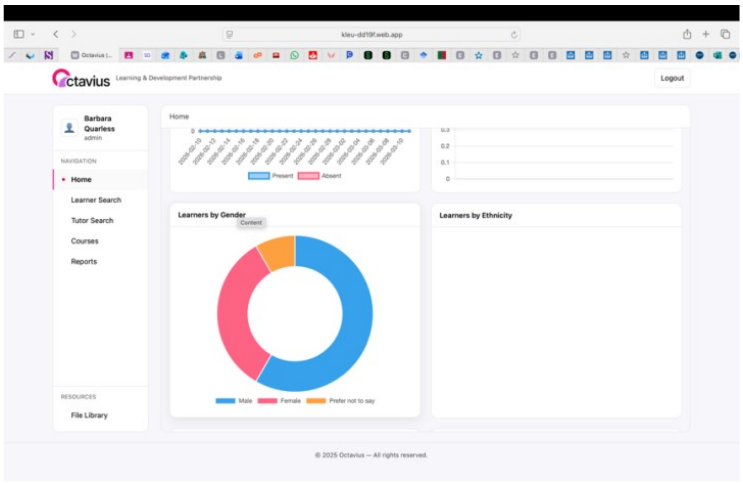

Training Provider Introduction

Octavius is a Women-led, culturally sensitive limited partnership, our partners and associates are self-employed stakeholders delivering on services best done as a collaboration of expertise for 14 years.

- We registered with Companies House in 2012, no: LP016085,
- We are registered with Skills for England to deliver apprenticeships. Training provider UKRLP no: 10092400.
- We are a registered NOCN centre for functional skills no: 30004327
- We are an approved training provider for the Construction Industry Training Board (CITB) no: 00348500247

As a small independent training provider, we can offer learners, employers and client organisations flexibility, personal support and care. Our qualified associate teachers, coaches and mentors ensure Octavius delivers high-quality programmes in collaboration with employers, learners and client organisations, growing and developing our training provider offer at the same time.

We have recently worked with the Open University to strengthen our policies and governance, and to develop a new learner dashboard to consolidate our online learning tools such as Google Classroom and OneDrive.

We are currently working on the DFE Matrix standard to meet the quality standard for information, advice and guidance services.
